Anti-Harassment Policy

The SAA is dedicated to providing a harassment-free meeting experience for everyone, regardless of sex, gender, identity and expression, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, ethnicity, religion, or age. Harassment is unwanted attention that a recipient experiences as offensive or disruptive to their wellbeing. Harassment not only sabotages the individual; it also damages the SAA's community by discouraging participation in the Society and compromising the exchange of ideas that is at the center of SAA's mission to promote and stimulate interest and research in the archaeology of the Americas.

Sexual harassment is behavior that demeans, humiliates, or threatens an individual on the basis of their sex or gender and can include crude behavior (such as offensive statements, jokes, or gestures); dismissive or insulting modes of address (such as referring to a woman not by her first name but as "babe"); unwelcome sexual attention (such as unwanted touching or repeated requests for dates); and coercion. Sex-based harassment also takes nonsexual forms when an individual is targeted because of their gender expression. It singles out some members of the community as acceptable targets and as unworthy of respect.

All of the spaces into which SAA's professional meetings extend are professional, and the values of respect, equity, multicultural pluralism and non-discrimination should inform conduct in formal sessions, meetings, and informal conversations over coffee and over drinks. All members should aspire to treat each member as having an equally valuable contribution to make. All members should remember our society is enriched from multicultural differences.

This policy applies to all attendees of SAA-sponsored conferences, meetings, or workshops including presenters, students, guests, staff, contractors, and exhibitors throughout the conference space whether participating in the program, tours, meetings, social event, or other function. The SAA Principles of Archaeological Ethics equally apply.

However, should an incident occur while at an SAA-sponsored conference, meeting, workshop, tour, or social event, or other function, the SAA President, the SAA Executive Director, SAA Staff, or any SAA Officer may be considered safe authorities with whom incidents can be discussed. The SAA will have mechanisms at each Annual Meeting to keep our conference a respectful environment for all its participants.

Anti-harassment procedures at 2019 Annual Meeting

The SAA President, the SAA Executive Director, SAA Staff, or any SAA Officer may be considered safe authorities with whom incidents can be discussed. These individuals will wear green "Talk to me" buttons at the 2019 Meeting. SAA Staff is available at the staff office (located in Maya room) and at the registration booth (in the West Lobby) during registration hours. Individuals coming forward with concerns will be asked to provide details of the incident or incidents, time and place, names of individuals involved and names of any witnesses. Please note that a sufficient amount of detail is needed in order for SAA to respond.

Upon the receipt of a complaint of offensive behavior by an SAA conference attendee, SAA will undertake the following procedure:

1. If the allegations involve what is likely to be criminal conduct, the SAA Executive Director shall notify the local police, contact SAA legal counsel and so inform the complainant. SAA shall not undertake further review of the matter once it has been reported to local authorities but may later evaluate the outcome of any criminal investigation in order to determine whether the alleged harasser should be permitted to participate in any future SAA programs and conferences;
2. If the allegations do not likely constitute criminal conduct, the SAA Executive Director shall attempt to verify the offensive behavior in a confidential manner as recommended by SAA legal counsel;
3. If the offensive behavior cannot be verified, SAA will so inform the person making the complaint and remind the person that they can report the behavior to the Register of Professional Archaeologists and/or to the alleged harasser's institution or employer;
4. If the offensive behavior is verified in a manner deemed appropriate by the SAA Executive Director and SAA legal counsel, the SAA Executive Director shall so inform the SAA President and, in conjunction with SAA legal counsel, determine the appropriate course of action taking into account various factors including, but not limited to, the following: a) the severity of the offensive behavior; b) the setting of the offensive behavior; c) whether the alleged harasser appeared to be under the influence of alcohol or drugs; and d) the duration remaining in the conference;
5. The courses of action which may be taken by SAA include, but are not limited to, any or all of the following: a) immediate removal from the conference; b) an onsite discussion with the alleged harasser to inform them of the complaint, to advise them that this behavior violates SAA's anti-harassment policy, and to direct that such behavior must cease immediately or the person will be removed from the conference;
6. Following the conference, the SAA Executive Committee shall meet to review all complaints received during the conference to determine whether SAA should modify the conference program, the submission process, the anti-harassment policy and procedures, and whether any of the complaints warrant further monitoring by SAA and/or the individual to be informed that they may no longer attend SAA programs and conferences for a set period of time or indefinitely;

7. In all cases, SAA will limit disclosure of information and to only such information necessary to verify the offensive behavior and only to those on a "need to know" basis; and
8. Should any complaint allege offensive behavior by the SAA Executive Director, the above procedure shall be undertaken by the SAA President instead or, if the SAA President is also alleged to have engaged in offensive behavior, by any other SAA officer.

SAA is not an adjudicating body. An informant can file a complaint with the Register of Professional Archaeologists and/or has the right to complain to the offender's employer (university, government agency, etc.).

2019 AWARD RECIPIENTS

Each SAA award recipient is selected by a dedicated and knowledgeable award committee—one for each award—made up of SAA member volunteers. Presidential Recognition Awards are bestowed by the SAA president to honor exemplary service to the Society. The Board of Directors wishes to thank the award committees for their hard work and excellent selections, and to encourage any members who have an interest in a particular award to volunteer to serve on a future committee.

PRESIDENTIAL RECOGNITION AWARD

Recipient: Deborah L. Nichols

We proudly present this award to Deborah Nichols for her exceptional service to the Society during this past year. After finishing her term as Treasurer, Nichols chaired the Nominating Committee, was a key member of the Executive Director Search Committee, and chaired both the Task Force and Archaeological Review Committee for the H. and T. King Grant for Precolumbian Archaeology. She performed all of her duties with enthusiasm and wisdom. Her leadership in assembling a task force and review committee to develop guidelines for the grant program and to solicit and review research grant proposals allowed SAA to launch the new grant program in record time, thus fulfilling the wishes of the donors to begin funding research in Latin America as soon as possible.

Recipients: John G. Douglass and Gordon F.M. Rakita

We proudly present this award to John Douglass and Gordon Rakita as co-chairs of the Task Force on Revision of the SAA Principles of Archaeological Ethics: Stage One. Douglass and Rakita assembled a diverse group of hard-working volunteers and guided their efforts to develop a detailed strategy of how to move forward with revising and updating the ethical principles in a manner that will ensure that the Society's membership has meaningful input about what ethical concerns they wish to consider. As part of that process, Douglass and Rakita organized the Opening Session and President's Forum, "Learning from the Past, Looking Towards the Future: Archaeological Ethics and the SAA." Douglass and Rakita are also both continuing to assist this effort by serving as members of the Task Force on Revision of the SAA Principles of Archaeological Ethics: Stage Two.

Recipient: Jerry D. Spangler

We proudly present this award to Jerry Spangler, who generously contributed his time and expertise to SAA by preparing a declaration supporting the position of the plaintiffs in the Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument lawsuit. For the amicus brief filed by SAA, AAA, and AIA, Spangler carefully documented the significance of the archaeological resources in the areas rescinded from monument status by President Trump. His long history of research on the anthropogenic impacts to cultural resources on public lands allowed him to provide important details about how the development of natural resources and the corresponding infrastructure will cause irreversible damage to archaeological sites that are no longer afforded the level of protection provided by the monument designation.

Recipient: Tim A. Kohler

We proudly present this award to Tim Kohler, for his efforts in helping SAA examine ways in which professional archaeologists can better share the benefits of our archaeological research with the public. Kohler volunteered to organize the 2018 SAA President's Forum,

"What We Have Learned," bringing together a diverse panel of archaeologists to discuss what the archaeological record has taught us that is important and useful for society today and how our research might inform the future. Kohler subsequently shepherded these papers to timely publication in The SAA Archaeological Record. He also chaired the Task Force on Valuing Archaeology, which examined what the Society is currently doing to engage with non-archaeological constituencies and how we can enhance SAA's effectiveness in spreading the word about the importance of archaeology in the contemporary world.

Recipients: Daniel H. Sandweiss and Thomas H. McGovern

We proudly present this award to Dan Sandweiss and Thomas McGovern, who played key roles in helping create the SAA Committee on Climate Change Strategies and Archaeological Resources. Together with several enthusiastic, energetic, and dedicated committee members, they helped form a group that continues to be engaged with researchers in the hard sciences, creating and sustaining interdisciplinary networks via dozens of presentations made annually throughout the world. The committee has cooperated with major national heritage groups in numerous countries to raise awareness and to take action about climate threats to heritage and science. They have succeeded in getting people outside of archaeology to listen about how humans impact the environment and how climate impacts humans and landscapes. The vision of Sandweiss, McGovern, and others has become a model of collaborative science, education, and outreach.

GENE S. STUART AWARD

Recipient: Gayle Keck

The Gene S. Stuart Award for journalism about archaeology was awarded to Gayle Keck. Her excellent article entitled "Discovering the Archaeology of Tattooing," published by American Archaeology, was an amazing article on a seldom explored topic. She covered the topic with an engaging style that united different strands of a worldwide phenomenon into a coherent whole.

DIENJE KENYON MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIP

Recipient: Weronika Tomczyk

Weronika Tomczyk is the recipient of this year's Dienje Kenyon Memorial Fellowship. She received her BA and MA degrees from the University of Warsaw, Institute of Archaeology, and is currently a PhD student at Stanford University. Her project is focused on assessing whether bone assemblages within Wari Empire archaeological sites were the result of a strict imperial economic policy, an adaptable policy which depended on existing local situations and environmental conditions, or a fusion of influences from multiple societies with variable acceptance of Wari cultural traditions. Wari's unprecedented conquest of a large part of the Andean world may have been motivated not by an interest in gathering power or spreading their particular religious beliefs, but rather by the acquisition of new natural resources, perhaps insufficient in their Ayacucho Valley heartland. To reveal information about animal management in Wari culture, she will combine standard zooarchaeological with stable isotope analyses and geometric morphometrics.

FRED PLOG MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIPRecipient: Megan Anne Conger

Megan Anne Conger's work investigates the nature and tempo of culture change of Indigenous and European worlds in Southern Ontario, Canada (ca. AD 1550-1650). Her work asks: 1) Did all Indigenous nations in Ontario begin to engage with Europeans at the same time, in the same way, and how did this relationship change over time? She will answer these questions by applying archaeological science techniques to the Wendat, Tionontate, and Attiwandaron archaeological sites in Southern Ontario occupied ca. AD 1550-1650. Here she will create chronologically grounded community-level databases to better understand Indigenous-European trade and exchange in Southern Ontario and Southern Québec. Her work is a reassessment of 16th & 17th C normative models of culture change that have dominated Iroquoian archaeology for the last 40 years.

PAUL GOLDBERG AWARDRecipient: Cayla D. Kennedy

For her project developing a model of Late Holocene alluvial cycles at Cub Creek, Dinosaur National Monument, Utah, that will be widely applicable across the Uinta Basin's Fremont farming localities, we proudly present the 2019 Paul Goldberg Award for master's research in Earth science and archaeology to Cayla Kennedy (Utah State University).

DOUGLAS C. KELLOGG FELLOWSHIP FOR GEOARCHAEOLOGICAL RESEARCHRecipient: Jacob P. Warner

For his project developing the bivalve, Donax obesulus, as a proxy for El Niño Southern Oscillation dynamics in archaeological contexts in north-central coastal Peru.

SAA/INSTITUTE FOR FIELD RESEARCH UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT TRAVEL AWARDSRecipients: Rebecca Dolan, Saskia Ghosh, Arthur WoldCHARLES STANISH SAA ANNUAL MEETING TRAVEL AWARD*Recipient: Diana CarhuaninaARTHUR C. PARKER SCHOLARSHIP FOR ARCHAEOLOGICAL TRAINING FOR NATIVE AMERICANS AND NATIVE HAWAIIANS*Recipient: Jacque KocerSAA NATIVE AMERICAN UNDERGRADUATE ARCHAEOLOGY SCHOLARSHIP*Recipient: Aka BendtsenSAA NATIVE AMERICAN GRADUATE ARCHAEOLOGY SCHOLARSHIP*Recipient: A. Leiokeko'olani BrownDISSERTATION AWARD*Recipient: Hao Zhao

Hao Zhao's dissertation offers a comprehensive new understanding of economic institutions and relationships within early Chinese urban capitals previously studied primarily from a political or religious perspective. It offers a new synthesis of massive bone-working industries at the city of Zhouyan and employs a holistic, interdisciplinary approach that incorporates historical sources, art history, bone chemistry analysis, and a battery of zooarchaeological techniques. The bone industry workshops at sites like Zhouyan include, literally, tons of bone debris derived from the manufacture of millions of implements. Bone craftsmanship operated within patronage relationships with nearby elites. The bones of domestic animals, especially cattle, were acquired from diverse locations, attesting to webs of economic interdependency. Zhao also documents the animal ages and element representation linked to manufacturing trajectories. Bone hairpins represent the majority of items made at the workshops, which entered into complex consumption realms related to social status, adornment, and masculine and feminine identity.

BOOK AWARD: SCHOLARLY

Recipient: Krish Seetah

Krish Seetah has produced an edited volume on a much neglected area in archaeology, the Indian Ocean World, a region that spans from southern Africa across the waters to Australia. He has brought together archaeologists, historians, artists, and other researchers who collectively increase our knowledge in a truly interdisciplinary fashion. Larger topics of colonialism, slavery, migration, heritage construction, climate change, economy, disease, and religion are presented by scholars from across the globe. Different types of evidence are used effectively through several approaches of understanding the past and relating the past to contemporary situations. Ecological considerations underlie various chapters on a wide range of topics. Connecting Continents: Archaeology and History in the Indian Ocean World makes a substantial contribution to anthropology, archaeology, history, and the Indian Ocean World. The authors further our awareness of how this part of the world connects with other continents.

BOOK AWARD: POPULAR

Recipient: Lynn Meskell

Lynn Meskell has successfully produced a definitive book on UNESCO and its involvement in archaeology and the impact of the World Heritage designation. The historical context of this international organization and its influence on archaeology are illuminated through in-depth first-hand research, ample documentation, and insights that provide eye-opening revelations. The superbly written synthesis of massive amounts of materials is truly astounding. The successes and failures of UNESCO are many, and they continue today. A Future in Ruins: UNESCO, World Heritage, and the Dream of Peace positions archaeology in a larger, intertwined, and meaningful context. Politics, economics, and current events all factor into whether and how particular sites are deemed worthy of designation or investigation. A compelling read for archaeologists and those interested in our collective past.

AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN ARCHAEOLOGICAL ANALYSIS

Recipient: Jonathan Mark Kenoyer

Jonathan Mark Kenoyer has earned the SAA's Award for Excellence in Archaeological Analysis for his detailed empirical analyses of a broad range of archaeological materials, guided by rigorous elemental and microscopic methods and an innovative interpretive framework grounded in experimental and ethnoarchaeological approaches. His analyses of the morphology, production techniques, and styles of a wide variety of artifacts, including stone beads, inscribed seals, shell objects, textiles and cordage, ceramics, stone tools, and copper/bronze and iron materials have generated new insights into the social dynamics of South Asia's first urban, state-level society. His focus on the complex relationships among craft production and the social, economic, and political spheres in which it takes place provides an important method to examine the organizational dynamics of ancient states, especially when written records are unavailable. This award recognizes the significant global impact and enduring contributions of Dr. Kenoyer's research and teaching to archaeological analysis.

AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN CULTURAL RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

Recipient: Duane E. Peter

Duane is a graduate of Southern Methodist University and has been involved in cultural resource management for over 40 years. He joined Geo-Marine, Inc. (now part of Versar, Inc.), in 1987 as their first archaeologist. Thirty years later he retired from the company having built a program that included archaeologists, architectural historians, and GIS specialists in three primary offices. He promoted the development of innovative and cutting-edge research techniques, including photogrammetry, 3D laser scanning, predictive modeling and remote sensing. He brought these techniques to projects in 45 states, the evaluation of over 2,000 archaeological sites and 700 Cold War-era resources, the survey of over 323,000 acres, and the preparation of over 900 technical reports. Duane built a CRM program known for excellence and quality research across the nation. Finally, Duane was a founding member of the American Cultural Resources Association and has helped guide the growth of that organization.

AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN CURATION, COLLECTIONS MANAGEMENT, AND COLLECTIONS-BASED RESEARCH AND EDUCATION

Recipient: S. Terry Childs

Dr. Childs has distinguished herself as one of the leading experts on national archaeological curation and collections management through numerous books and publications over the last 25 years. As Manager of the Department of Interior's Museum Program, Terry inspired countless students and scholars across the United States and has made immeasurable and long-lasting contributions to the stewardship of our national archaeological collections. In her role as Chair of the SAA's Committee on Museums, Collections, and Curation, the Archaeological Collections Consortium, and as SAA Board Member she has promoted an "archaeological curation ethic" for the discipline. She is an inspiration to her colleagues and the profession.

AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN PUBLIC EDUCATION

Recipient: Magic Mountain Community Archaeology Project

Magic Mountain Community Archaeology Project (MMCAP) earned the 2019 Award for Excellence in Public Education for exemplary involvement of local communities in an archaeological research project. This was accomplished through a partnership between the Denver Museum of Nature & Science and Paleocultural Research Group under the direction of Drs. Michele Koons and Mark Mitchell. MMCAP stands out among community archaeology projects because of the impressive scope of its public programming: during the 2017 and 2018 field seasons, 3,000 participants partook in thoughtfully designed programs. MMCAP not only invited the public to the site, but actively reached out and provided access to people who might not otherwise engage with archaeology. This included providing lunch and transportation for underserved youth groups, hosting a dedicated intertribal day, and creating Native American teen internships. MMCAP demonstrates best practices in how to stimulate the public's excitement for and understanding of the past through community archaeology.

CRABTREE AWARD

Recipients: Peter Boyle and Janine Hernbrode

Peter Boyle and Janine Hernbrode have followed their passion as avocational archaeologists and conducted research to document, interpret, and preserve rock art sites in Arizona over the last 15 years, involving numerous volunteers from the Arizona Archaeological and Historical Society (AAHS). They have made significant contributions to our understanding and preservation of rock art of the American Southwest through their research, scholarly publications (15) and conference presentations, and have promoted archaeology as executives for the AAHS and Archaeology Southwest. Since 2009, Dr. Boyle and Ms. Hernbrode have engaged tirelessly in collaborative archaeological survey and site documentation and publication, creating an inventory of thousands of rock art features in southern Arizona. Peter Boyle and Janine Hernbrode are highly deserving of the Crabtree Award for their exemplary archaeological teamwork that engages both the interested public and professional archaeologists.

FRYXELL AWARD FOR INTERDISCIPLINARY RESEARCH

Recipient: M. Steven Shackley

The Fryxell Award is presented in recognition of interdisciplinary excellence to a scientist whose research has contributed significantly to American archaeology. For the 2019 award the category was Physical Sciences. Because of a career-long devotion to obsidian studies in the American Southwest that has included decades of fieldwork to document the geological landscape, multiple high-caliber books on the method, theory, and application of obsidian studies, and exemplary service to his professional colleagues, M. Steven Shackley has been selected as the Fryxell Award recipient.

LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

Recipient: Lynne G. Goldstein

Lynne G. Goldstein has earned the SAA's Lifetime Achievement Award for her combination of scholarship and service to the profession. Dr. Goldstein's superb contributions to mortuary studies have moved this area of study beyond its early focus on reconstructing prehistoric social organization to more nuanced understandings of identity and variability. She also has made significant contributions to Midwestern and historic archaeology, and her advocacy for public engagement with archaeology has had a significant impact on the profession. She has excelled as a teacher and trainer of archaeologists. Beyond her own students, she has mentored hundreds of other anthropologists through her annual careers workshop at the AAA meetings. Moreover, Dr. Goldstein's service to the SAA, including the Task Force on Repatriation, Secretary, Editor of American Antiquity, co-chair of the Task Force on Gender and Research Grants Submission, and chair of the SAA Publications Committee, has been recognized by five Presidential Recognition Awards (certainly a record!).

At the Hyatt this will be located at the Men's Fiesta Restroom (H). At the convention center, the locations of these designated restrooms will be posted in the lobby near Registration (ACC).

GUEST BADGES

Guest Badges were initiated for immediate family members who are non-archaeologists and who need access to the meeting venue as guests of meeting registrants. Immediate family includes spouse/partner, parents, and children. Friends, colleagues, and other relatives are not eligible for guest badges. The registrant must purchase a guest badge that the guest must display at the meeting venues. Guest badges simply provide access to the meeting venue. Guests are not "meeting attendees." If a guest badge is to be purchased onsite, the meeting registrant must accompany the guest to registration. Accompanied children 12 years of age or under are not required to display a guest badge. Unaccompanied children may not attend the Annual Meeting.

NEW MEMBER AND FIRST-TIME ATTENDEE MEETING ORIENTATION

SUGGESTED STATEMENT OF TRIBAL RECOGNITION

The SAA Committee on Native American Relations (CNAR) provides this optional statement for meeting attendees to read in recognition of the local tribes and pueblos of Albuquerque. The committee recognizes that some people may have their own statement they would like to present, while others may choose not to participate at all. The CNAR provides the statement below so that SAA members and meeting attendees who would like to make a statement may do so, without concern or uncertainty about what words to choose.

I would like to take a moment to respectfully acknowledge that this meeting is being held on the ancestral homelands of 34 pueblos and tribes, as well as other traditional and indigenous communities currently lacking federal recognition. I would like to recognize these communities and their continued and sincere relationship with the landscape.

STUDENT WELCOME RECEPTION—ALL STUDENT ATTENDEES

All student attendees are invited to attend a reception hosted by Cambridge University Press and SAA's Board of Directors in cooperation with SAA's Student Affairs Committee. From 9:00 pm–10:30 pm on Wednesday, April 10 in Pavilion IV-VI (H), meet SAA leadership, network with colleagues, have some great food, and learn more about SAA!

Soft drinks provided, or you can use your glass of wine or a beer, if you are of age.

FEATURED SESSIONS

Opening Session/President's Forum

Title: Learning from the Past, Looking Towards the Future: Archaeological Ethics and the SAA

Organizer: Alex Barker

Date: Wednesday, April 10, 2019

Time: 6:30 pm–8:30 pm

Location: 290 Kiva Auditorium (ACC)

Abstract: The SAA Ethics Committee has studied in detail the SAA's Ethical Principles and has recommended to the Board of Directors that the SAA consider updating and revising them to reflect today's standards and norms. The Board of Directors has appointed the first of several sequential Task Forces to evaluate and update the Ethical Principles, in coordination with membership and stakeholders. This forum will provide an opportunity for the Society's members to engage in a discourse on what ethical concerns the membership wish to consider as part of the process of evaluating and revising its Ethical Principles. As with similar forums, the organizers will prepare a series of framing questions to begin the conversation and sustain it. The audience will also be encouraged to participate by contributing questions of their own.

Featured Forum

Title: Women and Grant-Getting: Strategies for Writing NSF Grants

Organizer: Barbara Roth

Date: Thursday, April 11, 2019

Time: 10:00 am–12:00 pm

Location: 65 Hopi (ACC)

Abstract: In response to a recent SAA-sponsored study highlighting the fact that women are less likely than men to submit National Science Foundation (NSF) grants, the Committee on the Status of Women in Archaeology has assembled a group of successful NSF grant recipients to discuss their grant-getting strategies. This forum is open to all with the goal of providing concrete ideas for successful grant submissions.

Ethics Bowl

Date: Thursday, April 11, 2019

Time: 1:00 pm–3:00 pm

Location: 110 Galisteo (ACC)

The Ethics Bowl, which debuted at the 2004 meeting, is a festive, debate-style competition that explores the ethics of archaeological practice.

Posters After Hours

Date: Thursday, April 11, 2019

Time: 5:00 pm–7:00 pm

Location: Hall 3 (ACC)

This session will feature 200 posters. With a relaxed atmosphere and a cash bar, this session serves as the perfect venue to connect with colleagues and discuss current research.

SAA President-Sponsored Session

Title: Protecting the Greater Chaco Landscape: Native Voices

Organizer: Paul Reed and Ruth Van Dyke

Date: Saturday, April 13, 2019

Time: 1:00 pm–3:00pm

Location: 270 Ballroom C (ACC)

Abstract: The Greater Chaco Landscape is currently threatened by expanding oil and gas development associated with fracking in the Mancos Shale formation in northwestern New Mexico. For the last four years, Archaeology Southwest, the Greater Chaco Landscapes working group, the SAA Mancos Shale Task Force, and other partners have fought to address this crisis. We have had extended conversations with the New Mexico Bureau of Land Management, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the National Park Service, the New Mexico State Historic Preservation Department, the New Mexico Congressional Delegation, and other entities. Because Native American voices are not always heard by the agencies, we have strengthened our outreach and partnerships with southwestern Native American Tribes. To that end, in this forum, we present a panel of Native American speakers who will convey the deep spiritual importance of the Greater Chaco Landscape and who will discuss their views of the best management practices for preservation of this ancient cultural landscape.

A WORD ABOUT THE SESSIONS

The sessions that make up the bulk of the program fall within seven categories:

General Session—Consists of Posters and Contributed Papers (15 minutes), each submitted individually by its author(s). Presentations are grouped together by the program chair around a particular theme, usually geographic or methodological. Session chairs are designated by the program chair.

Symposium—A group of 15-minute presentations on a well-defined theme submitted together by a chair. Also includes poster presentations submitted as a group and organized around a single theme.

Poster Session—A poster session consists of a group of posters. Posters are especially encouraged and are particularly effective for presentations communicating quantitative data. All poster sessions are two hours in duration.

Electronic Symposium—A discussion format in which the organizer posts the papers on the web at least one month before the meeting. No papers are read at electronic symposium as it is assumed that attendees will have read the material beforehand. Generally a few minutes' summary of the papers are the introduction to the two-hour discussion session.

Forum—An interactive format organized around a tightly focused theme. Formal presentations are kept to a minimum to encourage discussion between presenters and audience. Forums are two hours.

Debate—A format designed to encourage debate and discussion of current issues. A Debate consists of a moderator and discussants representing at least two different perspectives. No papers are listed with the session. Debate sessions may have no fewer than 4 discussants and no more than 6 discussants. Debates are two hours long.

Lightning Rounds—A Lightning Round is analogous to a forum format (there will be a moderator, perhaps a co-moderator, and discussants). Each Lightning Round will be organized around a topic or an area. The second hour will be for discussion in groups with individual presenters or discussion with the group as a whole. Each Lightning Round will be two-hours long with the first hour consisting of three-minute presentations (with three slides maximum; 10–15 discussants).

Any of these sessions are open to all registered attendees. Sessions may be "sponsored" and/or "invited." The designation "sponsored" indicates the support of an SAA committee or interest group, or an organization outside SAA. The designation "invited" reflects a special status and role within the meeting, as defined by the Program Committee Chair.

All sponsored and invited sessions are subject to review by the Program Committee, as are all other submissions, and are subject to the three-role rule. Because numerous groups wish to sponsor sessions, the Program Committee must balance such requests with other program goals; as a result, in some circumstances, requests for sponsored sessions may be rejected. The only exceptions to the review process and three-role rule are the opening and plenary sessions.

Join us at Posters After Hours!

This poster session will feature 200 posters. With a relaxed atmosphere and a cash bar, this session serves as the perfect venue to connect with colleagues and discuss current research.

CHERYL L. WASE MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Archaeologist Cheryl L. Wase spent most of her career working in the high deserts of New Mexico. She died at the too-young age of 53 in 2004. When her mother, Jane Francy Wase, passed away in 2013, she left a bequest to the Society for American Archaeology to endow a memorial scholarship in her daughter's name. This generous memorial bequest brings together three major themes that defined Cheryl Wase's life: her dedication to archaeology, her love for New Mexico, and her constant willingness to help and support other women. The Wase Scholarship offers continuing support to eligible students. Listed below are each year's new recipients.

Thames & Hudson

As the world's leading archaeology publisher, Thames & Hudson has worked closely with world-renowned archaeologists since 1956. Sixty-two years later—at a moment when archaeology's long-term perspective is more crucial than ever—we are still committed to publishing books by the most accomplished authors in the field.

ARCHAEOLOGY ESSENTIALS Theories, Methods, and Practice 4th Edition
